MORaine 1966

1966. . .

This was a time of expansion. Midwest Steel put its rolling mill into operation, and Bethlehem Steel's three-billion dollar Burn's Harbor Plant began to rise from the lake shore dunes. New industry brought with it new residents for Liberty Township.

It was the first year that the new building was in full use from the beginning of the school year. In September, 1964, the basketball team started the season practicing half-court in the old gym, competing for space with the library. A year later, the Lions performed before capacity crowds in the new gymnasium, and the library was expanded by five hundred books. A new heating system was installed in the old building. A new quarter-mile track was added to the sports facilities.

Liberty Township High School

.....A Year Of Change

In 1966 Mr. Harold A. Esserman, Liberty Township trustee, supervised the completion of a half-million dollar high school addition. Earlier he had overseen the construction of a quarter-million dollar third addition to the elementary school. In 1959 he employed thirty-six people for the school system, twenty-four of them teachers. By 1966 the number was sixty-two, thirty-seven of them teachers. Students, administrators and faculty were sorry to see Mr. Esserman complete his eight year term of office in 1966, for he had been not only a competent manager, but an interested and gracious friend.

In 1966 Liberty's principals began the task of preparing an evaluation of the entire school program with the objective of meeting accreditation requirements of the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. Liberty already held a first class commission granted by the Indiana Department of Public Instruction. Mr. Siegesmund, with the assistance of Mr. Harmon, continued to guide and improve the academic program, supervise high school faculty and finances, and administer an increasingly complicated extra-curricular program with a sure hand.

Services Increased

In 1966 the school secretaries were responsible for all school records, activity funds, bookstore orders, duplicating and the "intercom" as well as regular correspondence and reception of in-coming business.

The school bookkeeper was in charge of book rental, a $38,000 lunch program, the school milk program, all school salaries and all bills paid from the school township fund.

The custodians had added to their workload quantities of white walls, windows and white tile floors and, with the increased space, additional extra-curricular use...the NISBOVA contest, Prom and an elaborate musical production.

All but two of the school's eight buses made four trips a day to transport 786 students in the system. The cooks provided four hundred lunches daily, well-prepared at minimum cost, still meeting federal nutritional standards.

Mrs. Lucille Esserman, school bookkeeper.

Mrs. Eleanor Nicholson, secretary in the office of the assistant principal.

ACADEMICS

1966 was the year of the introduction of a Spanish class at Liberty. A Junior chemistry class replaced the physics class, and there was a change over from conventional math to "new" math.

Senior psychology students posted displays of patients' work collected during their two afternoons of service at Beatty Memorial Hospital.

The aim for the library was to meet the standards set by the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. The budget was aided by federal funds administered by the state under the National Defense Education Act. Mrs. Reynolds selected many new books in the fields of science, history, geography, English, biography, civics and fiction and increased magazine subscriptions to thirty-five.

Mr. Kitchell and Mrs. Harnach used library services, both resource books and visual aids, to supplement American and world history texts. In addition civics classes attended a civil trial in the Circuit Court and heard three authorities speak on local and state government.

ABOVE: Darlene McLoed, now living in Venezuela and Isobel Montes, formerly of Puerto Rico, reported to the civics classes on Latin American affairs. John Batchelor discussed Saudi Arabia.

Ball State University. B. S. English. Art, Speech, Art Club Sponsor, Booster Club Sponsor, Cheerleader Sponsor.

Foreign Languages

Analytical thought and writing were stressed in English classes. In senior composition strenuous writing and a review of basic fundamentals culminating in a term paper were offered as preparation for college.

Extemporaneous speaking, debate, and the ability to speak on any subject were emphasized in speech. Each year interested students attend the Speech Conference at Purdue, which involves discussion groups, extemporaneous speaking, and debate.

A general exploratory course was offered in art. Its purpose was to direct those who were capable to concentrate in the fields of techniques in which they had special talents.

Three foreign languages were offered this year. In addition to the classical Latin, French and Spanish were offered.

Mathematics And Science

JUDY SIEWERT

Valparaiso University, B. S.
Geometry, Math IV and V,
Junior High Math; Senior Class Sponsor.

Sophomores proved geometric theorems.

College math was studied by seniors in Math IV.

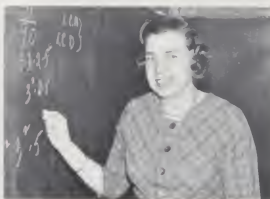

Questions were answered by freshmen in general math.

GERTRUDE COBB

Valparaiso University, B. A.
Algebra and Trigonometry, Freshman Class Sponsor.

Freshmen studied different forms of life in biology.

Five years of math were offered this year. Algebra was available to a select group of eighth graders, thereby providing them an opportunity to take five years of math in high school. The "new" math, which covered a broadened and enriched field, was introduced.

Biology was required for all freshmen. Chemistry was offered to juniors and seniors.

Seniors performed experiments in chemistry lab.

Coach, Assistant Basketball Coach.

Girls developed high jumping abilities in physical education.

Boys fought over medicine ball.

Two years of physical education offered every other day, were required for freshman and sophomore boys and girls. In the second year health was offered on alternate days.

The Business Department offered two years of shorthand and typing. The last semester of shorthand was a secretarial practice class, and the last nine weeks of typing were devoted to office practice. In addition to business typing, personal typing was offered for those who wished to learn to type purely for their own use. Courses in bookkeeping, general business, and consumer economics were also given.

WINOGENE BAKER

General Business, Bookkeeping, Consumer Economics, Physical Education Junior High Coach, Gym Supervisor.

Industrial Arts

Advanced wood shop was offered to Freshmen and metal shop to tenth graders. Metal shop consisted of gas arc welding, lathe and sheet metal work and forging. Drafting in the junior and senior years included both mechanical and architectural drawing. Driver training was offered for nine weeks in the summer. There were thirty hours of classroom instruction and six hours behind the wheel.

Home Economics

Four years of home economics were offered... beginning and advanced sewing and cooking, health and other areas of homemaking including dress and room design and home nursing.

Some Sophomores baked cookies while others learned how to bake an angel food cake.

First year home economists prepared for the day's lecture seated at the new sewing tables.

NANCY COPPENS

Ball State University—B. S.
Home Economics and Health,
School Lunch Advisor; Sponsor: Future Nurses, Home Economics Clubs and Freshman Class.

Amy Burrows and Barbara Adams became experts at making a hospital bed, complete with square corners.

Sewing was a popular skill learned during the fall semester.

This year the band made a record of winning a first in every NISBOVA Contest entered. They traveled to Fort Wayne and received a first and the Sweepstakes Award for best marching band in their class. They stayed at Liberty to receive a first at District Band Contest and journeyed to LaGrange, Indiana, for a first at State Contest. This made Liberty the outstanding band in their class, both symphonic and marching, in the state.

The school was host for the instrumental NISBOVA Solo and Ensemble Contest and District Band Contest. Both band and choir members worked diligently to make these events successes. The Band also won first place in the Kouts Centennial and second in the Valparaiso University Homecoming.

Last summer the band members attended a summer marching band camp at McCormick's Creek State Park.

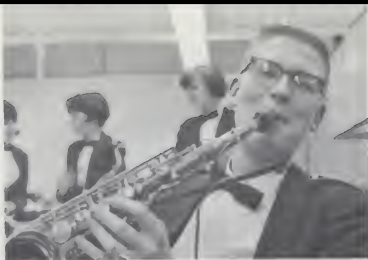

Mr. Siegesmund accepts Sweepstakes Award Trophy from Craig Martin, band president.

The activities of the music department included the marching and concert bands, the Lionettes and the chorus. During the year the department performed in several ways: the production of the play, participation in contests, performances by the Lionettes. The band won firsts in its class in every event in which it competed.

"The King And I"

The musical, "The King And I," put on by the choral department, was presented to over 1500 people on the three nights it played. Huge amounts of black hair spray were used to make the characters resemble Siamese people. Massive flats and intricate lighting arrangements were constructed to give the image of the king's palace. The characters, under the direction of Mr. Castronovo, were: Anna Leonowens, played by Ruth Martin, and her daughter, Louise, played by Ferne Weimer; the king, played by Craig Martin and Prince Chululokorn, played by Ken Fitch; Loretta Gaines played Tuptim, and her lover, Lun Tha, was played by Pat Babcock. The understudies also had a chance to perform. They did the show the second night. Ruth Martin, as Anna, won the award for best regular, and Virginia Beike, as Anna, won "best understudy."

In Rehearsal

ACTIVITIES

1966 introduced the Spanish Club and the Athletic Council to Liberty. In the fall, the Publications Staff established a chapter in Quill and Scroll, and gained membership in the National Scholastic Press Association.

Student Council

The Council strove to promote better student-teacher and inter-school relationships by sponsoring the second annual homecoming and a computer dance with the other North County schools.

The Council sponsored a Mohave Indian boy instead of having a Christmas gift exchange at school. At Christmas-time, the Council also sponsored a program consisting of class skits, a nativity scene tableau with the reading of the Christmas story, and songs sung by students of the language departments.

With the aid of some of the faculty, the Council revised the dress code and edited a new handbook. As a service to the school, the Council held ropes at the home basketball games.

To be eligible for membership in the National Honor Society, a student must be an upperclassman, and have a scholastic average of at least "B".

The society's purpose is to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in all students.

After the first semester, the club had an induction ceremony during school bringing four sophomores, four juniors, and two seniors into the organization. On April 18, another induction ceremony and dinner was held at Hotel Lemke in Valparaiso at which time two juniors and one senior were inducted.

G.A.A.

The purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association is to stimulate participation in girls' athletics and to promote ideals of health and sportsmanship. The members in this organization maintain their membership by earning a minimum of 100 points in organized sports during the year. The GAA has sponsored many activities such as volleyball and basketball tournaments where trophies were awarded to the winners.

Campus Life Club

In many schools throughout Porter County, Campus Life Clubs meet. The Liberty Y.F.C. Club met the third Wednesday of every month in the old office. The meetings usually consisted of a skit, teen-interview, and speaker. The teen-interviews were with the Homecoming Queens and Isobel Montes, a new student from Puerto Rico.

Once a month all the schools have a rally at some school gym. If 25 teens from one school attend, those teens are given a free pizza party. There are four times during the school year that singspirations are held at different churches in the area.

The sponsor for the group was Gordon Polsgrove.

Gordy's games give added spark to Y.F.C.

Office Aides

The office aides work in the high school office under the direction of the high school's office secretary, Mrs. Wysocki. The grade school aides work under the direction of Mrs. Nicholson.

During the year the office aides collect absentee slips, type, mimeograph papers, and do odd jobs that arise during their time in the office.

Annual Staff

The annual staff, made up of Seniors, worked during and after school throughout the year to produce the '65-'66 "Moraine."

Nine hundred dollars worth of advertising was sold by the staff at the beginning of the year to help cover the cost of the annual.

With Mr. Ray Rieckermann as volunteer director, the darkroom was moved and enlarged to help facilitate the production of pictures.

Newspaper Staff

The school newspaper, 'The Lion's Roar', was published bi-monthly during the year, and the staff met every deadline.

Its facilities included three typewriters, a mimeoscope, and a new mimeograph machine.

Issues of the paper were sent to the Critical Rating Service of the National Scholastic Press Association and were rating against other school newspapers in the same class. The 'Roar' received a second rating, which is average.

A two-day N. S. P. A. conference in Chicago was attended by the Publication Staff. In the various sessions they learned how to better organize a school newspaper and yearbook.

Editors who directed the successful operation were Nancy Beile, editor; Diane Link, associate editor and Louise Alexander, managing editor for both the 'Roar' and the 'Moraine'.

Homecoming 1966

The second annual homecoming was on February nineteenth and twentieth. The homecoming week consisted of crazy hat day, class promotion day, queen candidate day, and victory day. On Friday, the festivities started out with a rousing basketball game between the mighty Lions and the Monterey Fliers. At the half of this game in which Monterey was defeated by the Lions, the queen candidates were introduced. These candidates were Barb Dillingham, Nancy Beile, Diane Link, Seniors; Marilyn Park, Carolyn Laszlo, Juniors; Judy Beile, Joy Anderson, Sophomores; and Loretta Gaines, Freshman. The Lionettes also performed. The evening of the twentieth proved to be fun for the alumni who provided everyone with the evening's entertainment of basketball games. The feature attraction was the women's basketball game in which the alumni downed the high school girls. At the dance following the last alumni game, Marilyn Park and Carolyn Laszlo were crowned dual queens. Barb Dillingham was named first runner-up. The homecoming was profitable for the Student Council who used the money to pay for their blazers.

CLASSES

1966 was the year in which the class jackets were changed to school jackets. In the fall, the Sophomores sponsored a sock hop featuring the Beach Bums and made nearly $300.

Seniors

The Senior class, ably led by its officers, David Griffith, president; Ron Coffey, vice-president, who also served as annual photographer; Rosemary Hoffman, secretary; Barbara Dillingham, treasurer; and Norma Spencer, Student Council representative, shared the work and fun of a last year in high school. The class sponsored the Christmas Dance, where Rosemary Hoffman was elected queen. The class gained one new member during the year, Sydney Huxtable, from Michigan. For their motto, the Senior class chose "Climb Though the Rocks Be Rugged," and a red rose for the class flower. Linda Howard was valedictorian and the salutatorian was John Stockwell.

Booster Club

The Booster Club is a service club to aid the development of the athletic department. It is organized to maintain a healthy attitude and promote school spirit among the students.

The club had several sockhops after the games which promoted healthy recreation for students. To encourage participation in school activities and to help raise funds for the cheerleaders' camp each summer, the Booster Club took charge of concessions at home games. New uniforms were also bought with this money.

The main project this year was to prepare the members for competition in county tournaments. The theme was "Nothing Can Stop the Liberty Male."

The cheerleaders went to cheerleading camp in Wisconsin for a four-day session, and they also went to a clinic for a day session at Miami High School in Denver, Indiana. Bill Horan, "Mr. Cheerleader," was the speaker and instructor. The cheerleaders brought home many chants and cheers from camp that have been used this past year. They have also done many skits throughout this year to make pep sessions more fun.

The student body and the faculty were proud of our cheerleaders. Their pep, enthusiasm, and ability could not be surpassed.

This year's batsmen finished the season second in the PCC with a 5-2 record. They opened the season by dropping a close one to rival Hebron, 3-2. The only other loss was to Boone Grove.

Craig Martin led in hitting with a .368 average and also led in RBI's. Philip Labney was voted the Most Valuable Player for the 1965 season.

Fifteen minutes of calisthenics, wind sprints, and an average run of six miles a night proved the Liberty harriers are really a bunch of hard-working boys. Though only coming home with the sweet laurels of victory three times, the Lions made an impression as a team that really puts forth the effort.

The Lions this year, numbering twenty-one, were very proud to brag of nine letter winners, seven of whom are underclassmen and will return once again next year to carry our team to fame. The letter winners were: Dave Griffith, third-time winner, Roger Cole and Randy Dehart, second, and Russell Burrows, Randy Doler, Tom Weitzel, Jack Walter, Craig Martin, and Freshman, Bob Phares.

Varsity

This year's Varsity, under the direction of Head Coach Calvin Kitchell, had a very commendable season. With a record of 14 wins and 7 losses, the Varsity had the best season in years. The team, for the third straight year, won the North County Tourney, by defeating Wheeler 98 to 44. The Lions were defeated, though, in the second game of the County Tourney by Kouts, 70 to 63. During the regular season, the Lions again nipped rival Hebron, this time by one point, but received defeats at the hands of Jackson and Washington.

JV N. C. Champs

The JV Lions had an even record of 9 wins and 9 losses. The highlight of the year was their thrilling victory in the final game of the Junior Varsity North County Tourney when they beat Jackson, 49-38.

The guidance of Coach Harry Smith led to the opportunity of several players to play with the Varsity squad.

KNEELING: Mr. Kitchell, Coach; T. Weitzel; G. Baske; J. Walter; D. Dillingham; G. Borg; Mr. Smith, Assistant Coach. ROW TWO: R. Sheets, Manager; D. Frederick,

Freshman Team

The Freshman basketball team, under the coaching of Robert Graham, had a disappointing season of one win and six losses. They gained valuable experience, though, for next year's Junior Varsity squad.

1966 Class Tourneys

The Senior class split the 1966 class tourneys with the Juniors. The Seniors were victorious in the girls' game and the Juniors won the boys' division. This was the first year of the Has Been-Will Be game. The Has Beens were comprised of the Senior members from the Varsity Squad. The Will Bes were Sophomore and Junior members.

Members of the track team rest between events.

Track

Track Honors

Three athletes were given special recognition on Award Day. Dave Siewert was named the most valuable track member for which he received a trophy. Dave also received a trophy for having compiled the most track points during the season. Russ Burrows was awarded a sportsmanship trophy in track and a trophy for being the most outstanding Senior athlete. Tom Wietzel participated in the Decathlon held at Westville High School, and placed in seven out of ten events. Out of ten participants Tom placed fourth.

The annual Athletic Banquet was held on March 31, in the school cafeteria. Athletes taking part in Baseball, Cross-Country, and Basketball were recognized.

Those receiving award jackets were: Ron Bowgren, Arden Baske, Russ Burrows, Bill Nicholson, and Craig Martin. Others receiving awards were: Phil Labney, Bob Phares, Dave Griffith, Garry Borg, and Jack Walter.

Cheerleaders Diane Link and Rosemary Hoffman were presented with cheering plaques by the sponsor of the Booster Club, Mrs. Walter.

For

Athletes

Diane Link and Rosemary Hoffman received trophies for varsity cheer-leading.

Lebanon High School's coach, Mr. John Rosenhil, was the guest speaker for the program.

The Christmas Court was represented by Marilyn Park, Junior; Carolyn Carlson, Freshman; Shirley Black, Sophomore; and Queen, Rosemary Hoffman, Senior.

Royalty 1966

The two semi-formal dances held each year in the gym, were the Valentine's Day Dance, sponsored by the Junior Class, and the Christmas Dance, sponsored by the Seniors. This year the Juniors chose to nominate four boys for the King of Heart's Court.

The members of the Valentine's Court were Jack Walter, Sophomore, and date Judy Beile; Theresa Williams, Junior Secretary; Bob Phares, Freshman; Russ Burrows, Senior, and date Sue Stubbs; the King of Hearts, Roger Cole and date Carolyn Laszlo.

Mrs. Walter, Junior class sponsor, serves punch to Sue and Russ.

Prom 1966

The 1966 Prom theme, Polynesian Paradise, was beautifully carried out in the transformation of the gymnasium into a south sea island.

Diane Link reigned as Prom Queen and Tom Labney was King. Jim Cole and Isobel Montes were chosen as Prince and Princess.

After midnight, an excellent dinner was prepared at Wellman's.

Graduation 1966

Commencement exercises for the Senior class were held on May 20 in the gym. The class's motto was "Climb Though the Rocks Be Rugged." The speaker was Dr. Robert Bruce Pierce, from the Chicago Temple. A welcome speech was given by salutatorian, John Stockwell, and Linda Howard gave the valedictory. Mr. Siegesmund presented each class member with his diploma. The class formed a receiving line at the end of the service and were congratulated by relatives and friends.

Graduating members of the chorus sing for the last time.

Honors

Linda Howard was valedictorian and John Stockwell was salutatorian for the 1966 Senior class. John was the winner of the John Philip Sousa Award for band participation, and Linda received a tuition scholarship from Indiana State College.

Sally Burrows was the winner of the D. A. R. Award. She took a test on world history and current affairs with other girls from the county. Sally also served as Student Council president during her Senior year.

Darlene Meska and John Carlson were nominated to travel to Washington D. C. and New York City on the World Affairs tour sponsored by the Indiana Council on World Affairs. Dale Kissinger and Cheryl Glancy were selected as alternates.

Phillip Labney and Susan Kieplikowski were selected by their class to attend Boys' and Girls' State during the summer. Alternates were Craig Martin and Ruth Martin.

Norma Spencer was the winner of the Betty Crocker Award. She was chosen as Homemaker of Tomorrow because her score was the highest of all the scores on a test taken by most of the Senior girls.

Vaughn Davidson was the highest scorer for mathematics at Liberty in a test sponsored by The Mathematical Association of America.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million, from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1995. The public sector has grown from 10% of the economy to 15% of the economy.

There are a number of reasons for this increase. One of the main reasons is the increasing demand for public services. The population is ageing, and there is a growing need for health and social care services. There is also a growing need for education and training services.

Another reason for the increase is the increasing demand for public services from the private sector. The private sector is increasingly relying on public services, such as health and social care services, to provide services to its customers.

A third reason for the increase is the increasing demand for public services from the government. The government is increasingly relying on public services, such as health and social care services, to provide services to its citizens.

There are a number of ways in which the public sector can be improved. One way is to increase the efficiency of public services. This can be done by reducing the number of staff employed in public services, and by increasing the productivity of the staff who are employed.

Another way to improve the public sector is to increase the quality of public services. This can be done by increasing the training and development of public service staff, and by increasing the accountability of public service staff.

A third way to improve the public sector is to increase the transparency of public services. This can be done by making public service staff more accountable to the public, and by making public service staff more accountable to the government.

There are a number of challenges facing the public sector. One of the main challenges is the increasing demand for public services. The population is ageing, and there is a growing need for health and social care services. There is also a growing need for education and training services.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1.2 million (Office of National Statistics 1999). The number of people aged 65 and over is projected to increase to 6.5 million by 2010, and the number of people aged 75 and over to 4.5 million (Office of National Statistics 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop services to meet the needs of older people, and a number of initiatives have been developed to address this need. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the lives of older people. The strategy is based on three main principles: (1) to ensure that older people have the opportunity to live independently and actively; (2) to ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need; and (3) to ensure that older people are treated with respect and dignity.

The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's services. The strategy is based on the principle of 'active ageing', which is the process of enabling older people to live full, active lives. The strategy is based on the following principles: (1) older people should be able to live independently in their own homes; (2) older people should be able to participate in social and community activities; (3) older people should be able to access the services and support they need; and (4) older people should be able to live in a safe and secure environment.
